

Bringing together Missouri organic growers, gardeners, consumers, and all advocates of organic methods in a united effort to spread an understanding of the importance of a healthy food supply system, and to promote the growth and eating of organic foods.

2012 MOA Regional Organic Farming Conference Volunteer Contract

REGISTRATION: As a conference volunteer, I am eligible for reduced registration fees.

I understand that my conference registration is not complete until I have paid these fees. These are nominal fees associated with the cost of registration and scheduling and they are non-refundable. I understand that if I do not show up for my work assignments during the conference without prior notice, I will be held responsible for payment of full 3 days conference registration fees ($195); or if only attending one day, the $95 registration fee.

RESPONSIBILITIES: In exchange for reduced conference registration fees, I acknowledge responsibility to fulfill assigned shifts, to work cooperatively among volunteers and conference staff, to assist conference attendees and presenters throughout the conference, to communicate effectively with the volunteer coordinator and MOA staff, to know the layout of the conference center and be able to provide directions and assistance to conference attendees. As a volunteer, I understand that I may be asked to help if needed, even if it falls outside of my scheduled shifts.

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION: Notification of cancellation of volunteer commitment must be made prior to the start of the conference. Non-notification will result in being charged full registration fees. If a volunteer later decides to attend the conference as a regular attendee, the volunteer registration fees may be applied to the balance of full conference registration.

TRANSFERABILITY OF SHIFTS: I agree to fulfill the shifts for which I am scheduled.

I understand that my shifts may be reassigned by the volunteer coordinator or MOA staff person at any time with or without reason during the conference.

By my signature I declare I have read, understand, and agree with all parts of the Volunteer Contract and will strive to fulfill all parts therein.

Sign: _____ Date: _____

I am unable to volunteer at the conference, please give this opportunity to another attendee.

Name: _____ Date: _____